

GETTYSBURG TO BE PROMINENT AT GAR SESSIONS

Gettysburg will figure prominently in deliberations at the annual national convention of the allied orders of the Grand Army of the Republic to be held at Cincinnati, O. next week.

The annual sessions will open Sunday at Sheraton Gibson Hotel with all five groups allied to the GAR meeting together for the first time since 1949.

O. G. MacPherson, Carlisle St., and other members of a committee appointed by the state unit of the Sons of Union Veterans will present to the national convention a proposal adopted by the state group last month urging the burial of the last two surviving veterans of the North and South side by side here at Gettysburg. If the national organization adopts the idea, it will seek joint action by the Sons of Confederate Veterans sponsoring the proposal as a symbol of the reunion of the states after the Civil War.

Resolutions And Statue

Also listed for national action, by the Daughters of Union Veterans, is a resolution adopted by the Pennsylvania DUV which would provide for a college loan fund from the GAR Living Memorial to be placed

Ten Die And Towns, Cities Are Isolated By Heavy Rains

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Rain-swollen rivers rampaged through eastern Pennsylvania today, causing at least ten deaths and isolating towns and cities. The threat was still increasing in some communities.

The swiftly rising waters marooned 650 youngsters on two island camps in the Delaware River about 10 miles north of Philadelphia. They virtually cut off Scranton and smaller communities from passage, and brought a major flood warning at Bethlehem.

Another 310 persons were stranded in two Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad trains in the Pocono Mountains between Cresco and Tobyhanna. The railroad said the 2nd Army had promised helicopters would try to remove the passengers.

In addition to the known deaths, other persons were unaccounted for.

Rains totaled more than 9 inches in one sector.

While Pennsylvania was hardest hit by what was left by Hurricane Diane, there were floods throughout a wide area of the northeast United States.

Southeastern New York state, bordering on Pennsylvania, was inundated and children from a number of summer camps were evacuated to higher ground. Port Jervis, a city of 10,000, was put under a state of emergency by Mayor James E. Cole as more than 7 inches of rain in 24 hours

The Annie M. Warner Hospital Building Fund has now reached a total of $220,202.77, including $1,000 contributed by the Gettysburg Riding Club as a result of its recent horse show.

Hospital officials report that prospective contributors who were not contacted during the drive are now beginning to make donations as a result of a follow-up campaign. Approximately $2,800 has been received from this source and it is expected that similar contributions will be coming in steadily. Letters are now being mailed to those from whom responses have not been hitherto forthcoming.

Construction is expected to start soon on the new wing of the hospital.

MORE THAN 1500 SEE AIR FORCE EXHIBITS HERE

Despite rain which cut the period the van was open to viewing, more than 1,500 Gettysburg area residents saw two Air Force engines on display on Baltimore St. Thursday.

Airmen Charles Birkel and Bill Goodin, of Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, O., operators of the van bearing the two engines, said the display was one of several on tour through Pennsylvania and New Jersey. The vans, with Air Force equipment, will converge on Philadelphia September 3 for the National Air Show there.

The airmen explained that the displays, such as the one here Thursday, "are part of the publicity for the National Air Show, to be held September 3, 4 and 5. The Air Force will have every type of plane and equipment it owns at that show and we hope that great numbers of people will be on hand to see what their Air Force has."

Two Types Of Engines

The display here showed a J-47 jet engine, such as used on the Sabrejet F-86 and similar type aircraft. The engine was separated into various parts to show spectators an idea of how the engines of that type are constructed.

Also on display was a cut-away conventional piston engine, an R-3350, such as is used on the B-29 bombers.

The airmen had planned to have the engines on display throughout Thursday, but because of the rain did not open the van until 5 o'clock Thursday evening. They continued the display until 9 o'clock and said they were "highly pleased" with the interest shown.

CHILDREN MAY EARN OVER $600

Thomas C. McSherry, representative of the director of internal revenue for the Philadelphia District, today reminded parents and employers that in many cases young people employed during the summer months need not stop work before they have earned $600 in order that their parents may retain their exemption deduction.

Under the new liberalized regulations, a parent may claim the exemption or a child who earns more than $600.00, if the child will be under 19 years of age at the end of the year; or if the child is a student at a recognized educational institution or pursuing a full-time farm training course regardless of age. But, in both cases, the exemption can be claimed only if the parent furnished more than half the total cost of the support of the child.

McSherry added that children who earn $600 or more must file their own income tax returns, like everyone else, and may claim their own exemption, even though their parents are claiming them as dependents.

McSherry said the new rules were introduced to benefit the parent, the child and the employer. Further information concerning these regulations may be obtained at the district office by calling Gettysburg 830.

August Rains Here Heaviest Since '40

With 12 days to go, this month has become the wettest August in Gettysburg in 15 years and Hurricane Connie and Diane get most of the credit for the copious rains that broke the summer drought.

Hurricane-connected showers ended Thursday evening totaled 6.90 inches and dated from a week ago with the approach of Hurricane Connie. She accounted for more than four inches of rain while showers on Wednesday and Thursday of this week added more than two inches to the total.

Not since August of 1940 has so much rain fallen here in August. The total that year for the full 31-day period was 8.88 inches.

This month has a long way to go to set a new August rainfall figure, however, for in 1911 the month received a total of 12.99 inches of rain. The total so far this month is 7.97 inches.

Many county streams were bank-full or overflowing but no flood damage was reported here.

Today the registrars are at Fairfield.

Sister, Believed Dead, Visits Brother Here After 39 Years

Charles McKinney, Gettysburg R. D., is shown showing his sister, Mrs. Tom Quinn, of Fort Worth, Texas, their picture when they were at school together more than a half century ago. George P. Black, Baltimore St., was teacher of the school. Mrs. Quinn, who left home 39 years ago and was believed dead, recently contacted the family here from Fort Worth and now is visiting the McKinneys. (Times Photo)

Mrs. Tom Quinn, a nurse in Fort Worth, Texas, who disappeared from her home near Barlow 39 years ago, today was meeting with members of her family whom she had not seen for nearly four decades.

Charles McKinney, Gettysburg R. D., 2 painter, who had thought his sister dead for many years, claims it is "almost unbelievable" that Mrs. Quinn has returned to join the family circle.

Mrs. Quinn is just as thrilled—because she had almost despaired of ever again seeing any members of her family.

Located Family In July

She had learned, she said, that the family had moved to the Harrisburg area, after she left home 39 years ago. She wrote to the Harrisburg post office and her letters were returned—the family was unknown to the post office there.

Finally, in July she decided to make one last attempt, writing to "Bureau of Census," Gettysburg. The letter was turned over to the local registrar of vital statistics, Ralph Geiselman, who discovering from Mrs. Quinn's letter that she was a native of the Barlow area, called Mrs. Melvin Bishop, near Natural Dame area, who in turn recalled that Mrs. Grover Yingling, Gettysburg R. D., was a McKinney. Geiselman called Mrs. Yingling. She read Mrs. Quinn's letter and realized

Dr. Kadel's "Dial A Prayer" Phone Busiest In Orlando, Fla.

The busiest telephone in Orlando, Fla., today is "Prayer of the Day — 2-2454" and the voice that responds is that of the Rev. Dr. William H. Kadel, native of Gettysburg and pastor of the new First Presbyterian Church there.

The "prayer by telephone" service was made available to Orlandoans recently through the generosity of a Presbyterian layman who has remained anonymous. The dial-a-prayer idea has caught on like Davy Crockett.

The gadget that makes the service possible is the Bell System Automatic Answering and Announcing Service. The device records the prayer as Dr. Kadel speaks into a telephone hooked to an electronic device the size of a portable radio.

Non-Sectarian And Timely

From then on it's entirely automatic and the minister returns to his study or goes home to dinner. The text of the prayer can be changed at any time by the flip of a switch and another recitation by Dr. Kadel.

Orlandoans think there is the second city in the country — or the world for that matter — to convert the telephone mechanism to dial a prayer. The first was Scarsdale, N. Y., population 15,000. An Orlando Presbyterian read about the experience there and wanted to try it in Orlando. He approached his pastor, Dr. Kadel, and after Session approval was secured the stage was set when Dr. Kadel recently returned from vacation.

Dr. Kadel has made the service non-sectarian and is kept timely with news events on the world level and takes notice of religious and patriotic special days.

The telephone prayer setup in Orlando caught on quickly and soon was handling a call every 45 seconds, 80 an hour. The phone company estimates that at least 1,800 are handled in a 24-hour period. There's no way of knowing

Hulks Of Greek Fleet Sunk 2,368 Years Ago Believed Found Off Coast Of Sicily

SIRACUSA, Sicily (AP) — Divers have found water-logged hulks experts believe are those of a Greek war fleet lost 2,368 years ago in one of the greatest naval defeats of ancient history.

The first skeletal wreckage was sighted this week by men who have been working for almost a month in the silt at the bottom of the broad Bay of Siracusa, on the southeast coast of Sicily.

They described the gaunt ribs and sharp prow of what appeared to be an ancient trireme, a galley with three banks of oars. The wooden wreckage crumbled at their touch.

"There can be no doubt," said Prof. Luigi Barnard Breg, director of the Siracusa Historical Museum, "that the wreckage is from

COUNTERCLAIM FILED HERE BY VERNON G. RIFE

Vernon G. Rife, New Oxford R. D., filed his answer to the action in trespass against him by Newlin Jones, New Oxford, Thursday, in the prothonotary's office. In it he took issue with Jones' version of an automobile collision Dec. 17, 1954, in New Oxford, and presented his own counterclaim for $106.55 damages.

Jones filed the original suit July 29. He stated that both men were driving west on U. S. 30 in New Oxford, when Jones, operating at a low speed and signaling his intentions, tried to make a left turn into the Kohler Road. Rife was trying to pass him on the left at the time, and the two collided, he said. Jones asked $238.90 damages for car repairs, averring that Rife was responsible for the accident by driving too fast and trying to pass another car at an intersection and over a solid white line in the center of the highway.

Rife, in his answer, said that Jones was in the right lane of the highway, with his two right wheels off the hard surface, when he made a sudden left turn. He claimed that Jones was responsible for the mishap, by not watching for oncoming traffic before making his turn and by not giving any visible signal. He asked $106.55 for the damage done to his auto.

Here And There

News Collected At Random

Some 45 million vacationing Americans will take to the highways this summer. The advance guard is well on the move.

These and other travelers will pile up, by year's end, well over 400 billion passenger-car miles. For most of them, their road maps will be as essential as the car itself.

Maps have marked the route for fighter and trader for at least 2,500 years — since the days of ancient Greece.

The free road map, however, is still largely peculiar to the United States and Canada. Giving them away is a $10 billion annual business, with oil companies providing about half the estimated annual total of 300 million maps.

Equally uncommon outside North America are the free touring services which provide up-to-the-minute information on routes to any part of the nation and, in some cases, to many other parts of the world.

The advent of the low-wheeled "safety" bicycle in the late 1800s generated the first quantity demand for road maps. The "bikes" brought a new kind of personal mobility and made real, though short-range touring popular for the first time. "The Cyclist's Road Map of Connecticut," issued in 1888, was one of the first of its kind. Nevertheless, lack of accurate route information se-

SEMINARY GRAD ACCEPTS CALL

Rev. E. M. Clapper, Altoona, has accepted the pastorate of Grace Lutheran Church, Red Lion, a church official announced Thursday.

Last Sunday the congregation authorized the issuance of a call to the 44-year-old minister to assume the pastorate, which has been vacant since the death of Rev. William C. Day last February 15.

Rev. Clapper will begin his duties September 15. A native of Williamsburg, Pa., Rev. Clapper is a graduate of the Lutheran Seminary at Gettysburg. He served five and one-half years in the Lutheran parish at Carinbrook.

In February, 1943, Rev. Clapper enlisted in the Army chaplains' corps and was graduated from the chaplains school at Harvard University. His 41 months of military service included 27 in the southwest Pacific. He retained his major's commission upon his discharge in 1946.

Rev. Clapper assumed the pastorate of Grace Lutheran Church, Altoona, on June 1, 1946. In 1948, he was president of the Lutheran Pastors' Association of Altoona and vicinity and in 1952 president of the inter-denominational Altoona-Blair County Ministerium. Last year, he was chairman of the Blair County cancer crusade.

PAROLE MOTHER BUT SHE FACES CHARGES IN TWO OTHER COUNTIES

A Pen-Mar mother Mrs. Jeanette Stine Bupp, 35, was placed on parole for one year today "because of the hardship to your family and because your husband has to go to the hospital," she was told by the Adams County court.

The court told Mrs. Bupp, who was sentenced to from 11 to 23 months in the Allegheny Workhouse on charges of burglary, larceny, and contributing to the delinquency of a minor, "that it was releasing her after 6½ months only because of the family problems. Her husband suffered a back injury in an auto accident some time ago. He has since been trying to work and support and care for the children while his wife was in jail."

It was not immediately determinable however whether the action of the county court will immediately restore Mrs. Bupp to her home. This afternoon she was released to Franklin County officials to face burglary and larceny charge there, and there is a detainer listing four charges for breaking and entering and grand larceny against her from Washington Co., Md. At the time of her arrest police reported her home was filled with articles she had taken in the three counties.

Drops Check Charge

The charge of giving a worthless check to defraud, brought by Daniel L. Yingling, Gettysburg R. D., against George H. Mellott, Chambersburg, was "not pressed" after Yingling told the court he wished to drop the charge and was willing to pay the costs. Mellott had been charged with issuing a worthless check for $2,025 for farm machinery over a year ago. Mellott recently paid $1,700. Yingling told the court.

Francis Fogle, 30, Chambersburg, was found guilty of contempt of court for failing to keep current support payments and was sentenced to three months in jail.

Walter Clapper, Hanover, who had previously been given a suspended sentence on a charge of operating his car following a suspension of his license, was brought before the court, the suspension was revoked and he was sentenced to 60 days in the county jail and ordered to pay the costs.

Ten children of James Shultz were ordered to pay $4 per month each for the support of their parents following a hearing before the court held in the law library. The children, Clair Shultz, Benderville; Alma B. Herman, 25 Breckenridge St.; Mildred P. Shultz, 151 W. High St.; Helen R. Spence, 32 South St.; Blance E. Shultz, Biglerville R. 2;

FIND GALLAGHER GUILTY ON FOUR KOREAN CHARGES

NEW YORK (AP)—A court-martial today found Sgt. James C. Gallagher guilty of four charges involving unpremeditated murders, mistreatment and informing on fellow Korean War prisoners and collaborating with the Chinese Reds.

Gallagher, 23, of Brooklyn, was accused of throwing three Americans from a prison camp hut into frigid outside temperatures and leaving them to die.

The eight-man court announced its verdict at 12:15 p.m. after almost five hours of deliberation.

Unpremeditated murder is the equivalent of second degree murder. The maximum penalty is life imprisonment at hard labor.

Gallagher was not sentenced immediately.

The court returned verdicts of innocent on two specifications.

It found him innocent in the death of one of three soldiers, an American prisoner of war, in 1951 in Korea.

It also found him innocent of an allegation that he had told his Chinese Red captors, in connection with Sgt. Lloyd W. Pate of Augusta, Ga., "If I was in your place, I'd shoot him."

College Receives Vedder Paintings

Gettysburg College has received a group of paintings and pastels by Elihu Vedder, noted American artist of the nineteenth century, as a gift from the American Academy of Arts and Letters. Best known for his paintings "The Lair of the Sea Serpent," "The Lost Mind," "The Questioner of the Sphinx" and his unique illustrations for Fitzgerald's translation of "The Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam," Vedder also painted mural decorations for the Congressional Library, Bowdoin College, the Carnegie Institute of Pittsburgh and many other public buildings. The pictures he left at his death were recently bequeathed to the American Academy, to which he was elected in 1908, by his daughter, Miss Anita Vedder.

Like the Academy's annual distribution of contemporary American paintings, purchased under the Hassam Fund for presentation to museums, the distribution of the Vedder pictures is part of a continuing program to further the interests of the fine arts in this country.

SEVERAL KILLED IN TRAIN WRECK THIS MORNING

MARKED TREE, Ark. (AP)—The Kansas City-Florida Special, fast Frisco Railroad passenger train, was wrecked near here today. Several persons were reported dead and a number injured.

"They are still pulling people out of the wreckage," W. G. Key, superintendent of Marked Tree schools, said. "Several persons were badly hurt and I have been told there are some dead."

Key said the diesel-powered train, carrying 13 cars, remained partly on the rails.

Ambulances Called
"The last two or three cars are the ones in bad shape. One coach is about 50 per cent demolished, and the last part of the dining car has been destroyed, crushed right in."

The train left the rails on a 20-foot embankment southeast of the Marked Tree depot.

Ambulances and doctors were sent from Memphis, Tenn., 50 miles to the southeast. Other ambulances reached the scene from nearby Arkansas cities.

At Memphis, the railroad said that four cars were involved—two sleepers, the diner and one coach. It said the last four cars remained on the rails.

The wreck occurred at 9:30 a.m. The train had left Kansas City at 11:25 last night and was due in Memphis at 10 a.m.

PORT JERVIS, N.Y. IS SWAMPED BY FLOOD WATERS

PORT JERVIS, N.Y. (AP)—This southeastern city of New York state was virtually isolated today after torrential rains washed out highways and raised the Delaware River to flood stage.

At least 1,200 persons were evacuated from their homes.

Mayor James E. Cole declared a state of emergency at 2 a.m. and civil defense plans were placed in effect.

7 1/2 Inches Of Rain
Thirty-three children from Jubilee Ranch, a boys and girls camp in nearby Godfrey, were rescued from their flood-surrounded camp by a helicopter from the Stewart Air Force Base at Newburg, N.Y.

Not far away at the confluence of the Neversink River and Runoff Brook, water lapped around Eddy's Farm, a summer resort, and an Army duck was brought in to rescue vacationers.

With 7 1/2 inches of rain falling since Wednesday night, storm sewers in the city overflowed. Unofficial observers said the Delaware River crested to 25 feet, breaching a dike along the bank on the Port Jervis side in many places. More than 250-300 homes were flooded, some almost to roof top, in the area known as the first ward section.

Traffic on the Erie Railroad was blocked west of Port Jervis because of washouts.

The flood waters ruined the newspaper supply of the Port Jervis Union Gazette and cut off telephones. The paper set up a teletype machine in the office of the Tri-State Associated Telephone Corp. to receive its Associated Press news report and copy boys were running copy to the news office where it was planned to get out a six page paper this afternoon. Linotype machines and presses were unharmed.

Damages were estimated in millions of dollars in Sullivan and Ulster counties where flood forced evacuation of many summer cottage areas.

At Goshen, the one-mile track on which the Hambletonian harness race was run two weeks ago, was all pond. In Orange County, a highly agricultural area, many farms were flooded. Below Middletown, some homes were flooded by the raging Walkill River.

Along the New York Thruway, water was cascading down the mountainside between Suffern and Harriman. The water was running off into the Ramapo River, already far beyond its banks.

RIOTS CONTINUE WITHIN MOROCCO

CASABLANCA, French Morocco (AP)—Looting and violence by Nationalist rioters kept pressure on the French government today during high-level talks aimed at granting more Moroccan autonomy.

French Resident Gen. Gilbert Grandval flew to Paris and went almost immediately into conference with Premier Edgar Faure this morning.

As they were talking, demonstrators put the torch to several European shops in a native quarter near Meknes and looted others.

Casualties toll in the protectorate rose almost hourly Thursday as the figure was put at nine dead and many injured.

The tense atmosphere was reflected at the guarded palace of aging Sultan Mohammed Ben Moulay Araf, who has been granted a few more days to try and form a broadly based Cabinet to ease the situation. Few observers gave him a chance.

RED SUSPECTS HIDE BEHIND AMENDMENTS

NEW YORK (AP)—A public relations man has cited five amendments to the Constitution in refusing to answer questions before the House Un-American Activities subcommittee probing Communist influence in the entertainment world.

Ivan Black, 53, appeared as one of the final witnesses yesterday in the windup session of the subcommittee hearings headed by Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.). The committee heard 23 witnesses in four days.

Black, once a Broadway press agent and now a public relations consultant to industrial firms, carried a copy of the U.S. Constitution as he took the witness stand.

While a Broadway publicity man, Black said, he was once known as the "No. 1 Starmaker" through his publicizing of theatrical people.

When asked whether he had been a member of the Patrick Henry Communist Club of New York City about 1936, Black — refusing to answer — invoked the First, Fifth, Sixth, 10th and 14th amendments.

Denies Red Ties
Harold J. Salemsen, 44, a foreign film importer and former Hollywood free lance writer, denied being a Communist but refused to comment on his associations or beliefs prior to July 1, 1948. He invoked the First (freedom of speech) and Fifth (involving possible self-incrimination) amendments.

Of the other amendments cited, the sixth relates to the right of a speedy public trial, and the 10th reserves to the states powers not delegated to the federal government.

Salemsen also said he would have been more inclined to cooperate with the committee had not Walter "associated himself on Monday night with elements which I feel should be investigated."

The witness was referring to the chairman's speech at a New York rally of the Alliance, Inc., described as an anti-Communist organization.

"Political Meeting"
Salemsen termed the rally "a biased political meeting," adding: "Obviously this committee is here not to investigate but to convict. The chairman associates with un-American elements."

Walter replied: "I was proud to be at the meeting Monday night and I assure you there was no person there who would ever invoke the Fifth Amendment."

David Kanter, 46, production stage manager, was the final witness.

Frank S. Tavenner Jr., committee counsel, read from minutes of the Aug. 1 closed session in Washington at which the question of possible immunity for Kanter had been raised.

"That offer of the committee stands good today," Tavenner said.

Trapped By Reds
Kanter rejected the offer, saying, "Sir, I must tell you that I must take the same position that I took before."

Walter, summing up the hearings after adjournment, said: "I am sure the people of this community now have a picture of how innocent people are enlisted into the Communist conspiracy."

Walter also disclosed that Elizabeth Bentley, self-admitted former Russian spy ring courier, had been hired by the committee two weeks ago as a paid consultant. He said her job was temporary and would last about another month. Her salary is $300 monthly.

Walter has said that hearings would resume in Washington in about a month.

Capture Cop Killer In Biggest Chicago Manhunt Since Dillinger

By CHARLES BANKS

CHICAGO (AP)—Chicago's greatest manhunt since the days of gangster John Dillinger ended last night with a 26-year-old cop killer begging:

"Don't shoot. Don't shoot."

Despite the plea, ex-convict Richard Carpenter fought his captors to the end, though unarmed. He wrestled with policemen who dragged him out of a tear-gas-filled third-floor apartment.

Driven Out By Gas

"No doubt about it. He was driven out by tear gas. The apartment was just loaded with it," said Detective Elwood Zuley, 40, one of the first policemen to grab Carpenter.

Zuley said the fugitive, who within a 72-hour period killed one policeman, critically wounded another and terrorized a family for 23 hours, made an apparent gesture of surrender by sticking both hands out through an open door.

The detective said he grabbed one outstretched hand. Patrolman John Kennedy, 54, grabbed the other. Together they yanked Carpenter into a narrow hallway.

No Gun Found

The two policemen, aided by several other officers, wrestled Carpenter to the floor to escape a steady stream of gunfire and tear gas shells pouring into the apartment. No gun of Carpenter's was found in the apartment.

Kennedy said the slightly built gunman, described by his mother as harboring a passionate hatred for policemen, battled fiercely when handcuffed. Carpenter was not wounded by police bullets.

But, said Zuley, Carpenter kept pleading: "Don't shoot. Don't shoot."

"Of course," Zuley added, "no one shot."

Block From Theater

Carpenter was quickly hustled into a squad car under heavy guard and taken to the nearby North Avenue police station. Milling crowds shouted "Kill him" as he was taken to the lockup.

He was captured just a block north of the Biltmore Theater where, on Wednesday night, he had critically wounded policeman Clarence Kerr, 26, in a gun duel. Kerr suffered a lung wound while Carpenter suffered a bullet wound in his right thigh.

Kerr had tried to arrest him for the slaying, some 50 hours earlier, of Detective William Murphy, 34, in a subway station. Police said Carpenter admitted slaying Murphy, who had arrested him on a subway train. The young gunman was wanted in connection with a series of robberies.

Held Family Prisoner

After shooting Kerr, Carpenter fled the theater safely and ran a block to 2040 Potomac Ave. There, he forced himself into the second-floor apartment of Leonard Powell, 31, a truck driver. Powell's wife Stella, 30, and their children, Robert, 7, and Diane, 3, were present.

Powell quoted the intruder as saying: "I'm Carpenter. I just shot a policeman in the Biltmore Theater. You've got to hide me."

From Wednesday night until his capture 23 hours later, Powell said, Carpenter kept his family virtual prisoners. He permitted Powell to go to work yesterday so as not to arouse suspicion.

"He acted like a little God," said Mrs. Powell, recalling the experience. "He was nervous at first. But when he calmed down he began to brag of how he killed one policeman and wounded another. He said he was smarter than they were."

Outmaneuvered

Carpenter's determination not to arouse neighbors' suspicions proved to be his eventual undoing. Their captor, Powell said, allowed the children to go out and play last night and he also permitted Mrs. Powell to sit on the front steps of the apartment building, as was her custom. Once his wife was outside, Powell continued, he asked Carpenter if he might join her. He said it might arouse neighbors' suspicions otherwise.

Once outside, Powell huddled with his wife momentarily and decided on a plan. She took the children and moved out of gun range from the apartment window. Powell scooted out of range also. He ran to a cigar store and called police.

It was only a few minutes later that Carpenter finally was captured, bringing to an end the biggest manhunt since police trapped Dillinger 21 years ago as he emerged from a movie theater. Nearly 500 policemen had been hunting the fugitive.

WORLD-FAMED KOREAN-YANK REFUSED HOME

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Dr. Sammy Lee, world-famed Korean-American who twice won an Olympic diving championship, has twice been refused purchase of a home in Garden Grove, the Chronicle said today in a copyrighted story.

Real estate operators in Southern California's Orange County refused to sell to Lee, now a U. S. Army major, because of his Korean ancestry, the Chronicle said. Lee announced several months ago he planned to practice in the area after he retires this fall. He is an eye, ear and nose specialist in the Army Medical Corps.

The Chronicle's Michael Harris said Gordon Tripp, a Garden Grove real estate salesman, told him Lee was refused a $12,000 home because:

Line 8 Feet Apart

"This is a tract home. These people live eight feet apart. These people are not open-minded. If we had a colored or Oriental family here, all hell would be raised."

"I would rather have Dr. Sammy Lee myself than half the families here, but if you have one — a nice one — then you'll have others, including a little guy from a produce market who smells like hell."

The Lees tried to buy another house for $27,000. The promoter, H. Johnston, didn't sell.

"I asked the neighbors whether they minded if I sold to Sammy," said Johnston. "They didn't say they objected, but they sure wished I wouldn't sell."

"The people right next door moved here from Long Beach because Japanese moved into their neighborhood. I have 10 lots to move. Every cent I've earned since I left the service is in this property."

Hurts My Country

From Ft. Carson, Colo., where he is winding up 12 years of Army service, Lee told the Chronicle: "This doesn't hurt me, it hurts my country."

"Of course I'll fight it. As a matter of principle. Besides, I was raised down there and I belong there."

He's a graduate of the University of Southern California and interned in Orange County. He and his wife expect their first child soon.

Lee won the Olympic diving championship in 1948 and 1952. He was serving in Korea last year when he was recalled to receive the Sullivan memorial award as the man who contributed most to American amateur sports in 1953.

The State Department subsequently sent him on a three-months tour of Asia and the Middle East. On that tour, Lee wrote from Ceylon to relatives here:

"Last night I had an argument with a rabid Communist who said the capitalistic world had subjugated the colored races long enough."

"Then I said if this is so why am I, a member of the colored race, sitting here as a world champion and a doctor of medicine?"

Wonderful for company: Oven or spit-roast a couple of frying chickens. Make a sauce using the drippings, chicken broth, curry powder and egg yolks for thickening. Serve the sauce over the carved chicken and accompany with shredded coconut, finely chopped salted peanuts and chutney. This dish needs steamed rice as a go-along, of course.

CALL TROOPS TO FLOODED AREAS

INDIANTOWN GAP, Pa. (AP)—A company of infantry and two helicopters of the 28th Infantry Division, Pennsylvania National Guard went to the Stroudsburg area today on flood mercy missions.

Co. G of the 109th Infantry with two days of field rations rolled out of the military reservation for its home armory at Stroudsburg to aid in flood evacuation. The company is commanded by Capt. Gerald J. Shanley of East Stroudsburg.

The company interrupted its summer field training here to help in the flood areas.

The infantry convoy consisted of four personnel carriers, a kitchen truck and two jeeps. State police escorted the convoy.

Maj. Gen. Henry K. Fluck, 28th Division commander, also ordered a helicopter to Stroudsburg to evacuate injured from East Stroudsburg to the Stroudsburg hospital.

Another helicopter was sent to the Pocono Mountains near Paradise to lift passengers and crew from a stranded train of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad.

A graham-cracker crust makes a fine base for your favorite cheese cake mixture. To make the crust roll 14 graham crackers very fine; you should have about one cup of crumbs. Then mix the crumbs with a quarter cup of butter or margarine (that you have melted) and two tablespoons of sugar. Pat the mixture evenly over the bottom of a 9-inch spring form pan and chill thoroughly before putting in your cheese mixture and baking.

to send down divers. The war fleet was sent by Athens against Corinthian-held Syracuse, once Greece's greatest colony, in the days of Alcibiades.

The Siracians defended themselves well in their fortress-guarded bay and the Athenian commanders decided to withdraw. Because of superstition, however, they waited until after the eclipse of the moon on Aug. 27, 413 B. C.

By then it was too late. The Athenians trapped them by blocking the mouth of the harbor with the hulks of old ships. All but 13 of the Greek ships were sunk.

The Athenian shore force of 6,000 men was decimated and its survivors were sold into slavery.

Many historians have called the defeat the beginning of the end of the power of Athens.

The Pennsylvania Department of the DUV is also seeking support for a resolution calling for the placing of all flags at half mast through the nation at the death of Albert Woolson, Duluth, Minn., last surviving Union veteran of the Civil War "to mourn the passing of an era."

Plans are also to be discussed at the national convention, for the dedication of a statue to Mr. Woolson, as a memorial to the GAR at Gettysburg next year.

Among those from here attending the national session will be Mrs. Bess Kappel, Carlisle St., national press correspondent for the Daughters of Union Veterans, and Mr. MacPherson.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

Four Veterans' Units Start Movement To Combine Holiday Observances; Sons Of Union Veterans, United Spanish War Veterans, American Legion And Veterans Of Foreign Wars To Act On Resolution: A movement to combine and coordinate the efforts of the four veterans' organizations of Gettysburg—Sons of Union Veterans, United Spanish War Veterans, the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars—to observe fittingly all holidays throughout the year got under way at a meeting of representatives of the four organizations in the parlors of the Hotel Gettysburg Tuesday evening.

It was stated at the meeting that observance of Decoration Day and Armistice Day in Gettysburg should be on a dignified basis and that by co-ordinating the efforts of all the veterans' organizations all activities would embrace the various organizations and that the program might be enlarged or elaborated upon. It also was emphasized that by perfecting an organization or committee comprising representatives of the four organizations, observance would be assured for Gettysburg.

Says England Is Last Friend Of U. S. In World: Washington, Aug. 14 (AP)—Secretary Knox urged the House military committee today to approve compulsory military training legislation because he said if England should be defeated "we will be left without a friend in the world."

Repeatedly asserting that the United States faced the most serious crisis in history, the Navy secretary asserted:

"In the event that England goes down—and I pray to God that that won't happen—we'll be left without a friend in the world."

However, Knox said, in event of a British defeat, there would not be an immediate attack on the United States but rather a German effort to "calm our fears" and to "interrupt preparedness measures we are taking."

Earl Ziegler Named To College Faculty: Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, president of Gettysburg college, announced today that Earl E. Ziegler, Red Lion, formerly of Gettysburg, has been named assistant professor of mathematics at the college for the coming year.

Mr. Ziegler will substitute for Dr. W. Walter Durdin, who is serving for the year with the United States Army.

Birth Announcement: A daughter was born at the Warner hospital Wednesday evening to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hinkle, East Middle street.

Personal: Mrs. Charles W. Stock and Miss Angela Stock, East Middle street, have been spending several days in New York City.

Officer and Mrs. Joseph F. Bushey and family, Fairfield road, left this morning for a vacation at Misquid Bay, Vermont, near Swanton. Private Bushey is on vacation from duty at the Gettysburg substation of the state motor police. They will return late this month.

Miss Winifred Webster, of Harrisburg, was a guest today of Miss Peggy Zinn, West Broadway.

2,500 Nazi Airplanes Bomb England; Bombs In London: Censorship Retards News Of Air Battle: Nazis Report Bombs In Densely-Populated Section Of Capital—(By The Associated Press): A terrific air battle over London was being fought this afternoon, authorized Nazis in Berlin said, with German planes raining bombs on London's outlying suburbs and clashing with British pursuit ships.

While cable communication with London remained ominously silent regarding the air raid, dispatches from Berlin said huge explosions at Purfleet and Barking, in the British capital's densely-populated East End.

Today's Talk

THE BOOK APPEAL

A friend of mine and I were talking about how people got started in the reading of books. He told me of a chap who was presented with a copy of a book by Jim Tully. It was called "Beggars of Life." This boy had never read a book before in his life, but this one aroused his interest. He heard there were several of Tully's books in the New York Athletic Club library. So he got a job as bell boy there that he might explore those other Tully books!

Nearly every treasured book I have, by authors who wrote many books, some one else told me about, or else some other books praised its worth, leading me to it. Many a wonderful book has introduced me to a new friend. Go into a good second-hand book shop and note how such a place becomes a natural democracy No snobbery, no segregation, no boast among books. The great and unknown books side by side in a library or book shop.

There have been written books for every type of mind and for every mood. Many have been the books that have changed the entire course of a life. The appeal of books is a universal one. Some one writer is always near to suggest something of interest or profit to us. I have never mentioned a book in this space that wasn't a good and worthy one — one that demonstrated itself to me first.

The friendship of books is something that never leaves one. At almost any moment, especially at home, a book can be called to you and, in a few minutes, everything is forgotten and your silent friend and you are one! You can't always get in touch with your human friend, but you and his book may go on an excursion together, or comfortably rest and silently converse.

There is no public institution that has a greater influence for good than the public library. It is an investment that no town, or city, can afford to be without. It has changed the course of many a life. It has enriched every city that has taken it to its heart.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Nature's Teachers." Protected, 1955, George Matthews Adams Service

CHANGE-WORKER

The baby came the other day. Now there's a cry to hear. And be as careful as they may There will be pins to fear.

There will be moments of dismay Which turn the blood stream cold. When some one in an awkward way The baby starts to hold.

There will be bills that must be paid or things they'll have to buy. There will be changes to be made And feedings to supply.

The baby came the other day And this is plain to see. Much different by night and day Both life and home will be.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attended by her sister, Miss Pauline Spangler, as maid of honor. The best man was David Rehmeier, Philadelphia, brother of the bridegroom. Clyde Spangler, York, the bride's brother, and Earl Albright, Pittsburgh, were the ushers.

The bride graduated from Gettysburg high school in 1936 and for the last four years has been employed in the office of the Gettysburg Furniture companies. Mr. Rehmeier graduated from New Freedom high school in 1933 and from Gettysburg College in 1937.

DEFENSE DEPT. OVERLOOKED RED POW TREATMENT

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—The armed forces failed to prepare American servicemen, who became prisoners of war in Korea, for the Red Chinese technique of indoctrination and brainwashing.

This is acknowledged by the Defense Department's special committee—made up of high government officials and top retired officers—which has just issued a report on the POW problem.

It recommended the department begin a program to prepare American servicemen against Communist questioners if they are captured in the future. Any such preparation in the past, the committee said, was "decidedly inadequate."

Lessons Learned

There were some lessons to be learned from the Communists in World War II but the Defense Department either didn't learn them or failed to foresee the turn they'd take.

The committee, reviewing the treatment of POWs in World War II by the Axis powers and the Communists, reported:

1. The Germans' treatment of American prisoners was "fairly punctilious," although perhaps more from fear of American reprisals than public opinion.

Japanese Brutal
2. The Japanese were brutal but not "subtle" with American prisoners. In their tortures and atrocities they were being vicious for the sake of viciousness or were seeking military information. They were not trying to indoctrinate their captives or seduce their minds.

3. The Russians gave a hint of things to come by their treatment of German prisoners. They herded them into political camps and besieged them endlessly with Marxist teachings to indoctrinate them with communism.

4. The Red Chinese, in their civil war with Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist Chinese, also put their Nationalist prisoners into political camps and tried to convert them to communism.

No Defined Code

That civil war continued until a few months before the Korean War. So when they got into that, the Red Chinese used the same methods of indoctrination on American prisoners, with some additions.

The armed forces, the committee said, have never had a clearly defined code of conduct for American prisoners after capture. So the committee produced a code which President Eisenhower laid down as the code for the future.

40 Chinese In U.S. Free To Leave

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials said today they probably are about 40 Chinese former students still in this country who want to return to Communist China. But they emphasized that, unlike the 41 Americans held in Red China, the students here are free to leave at any time they wish. The student issue has been raised by Red China in connection with negotiations at Geneva, where the United States seeks freedom for Chinese-held Americans.

White Sox Split Double-header With Kansas City As Cleveland Climbs With Win Over Detroit

By ED WILKS

The Associated Press
No matter who wins the pennant, it begins to look like the American League champion is going to be a reluctant ruler of the roost. The four contenders stay within first place, but they always manage to blow a chance to take command.

Boston started it, dropping the final game of a three-game set at New York after splitting the first two. Then Cleveland dissipated a two-game lead of last week-end by losing three in a row.

Next, the Yankees, who looked as if they were rolling, misfired after winning seven straight and, though still on top, settled for a slim one-game edge.

Chicago choked up yesterday, dropping the second game of a Kansas City 5-3 after slipping ahead of the Yanks, who were rained out at Boston, with a 6-2 victory in the first game.

Cleveland, meanwhile, climbed back to within a game of first place, and within three percentage points of the White Sox, by ending its slump with a 5-3 decision over Detroit.

The White Sox got two unearned runs for an early lead in the night-cap, but still couldn't get home safe. Vic Power smashed a two-run homer in the sixth off loser Harry Byrd to tie it. And after Sherm Lollar homered the Sox back into the lead, 3-2, in the bottom half of the frame Byrd collapsed in the seventh.

Bill Renna doubled, Joe DeMaestri tripled and Wilbur Shantz singled for two runs and the A's had it. Arnie Portocarrero checked the Sox on six hits, but walked four—leaving 10 runners stranded.

Virgil Trucks won the opener, his 12th although forced out on hit by a line drive in the sixth. The Sox picked it up as the winning run scored on three singles in the fifth and Minnie Miposo smacked a two-run double in the seventh.

Cleveland waltzed in as two Tiger errors led the way to a four-run eighth. That broke up a 1-1 duel between rookie Frank LaRue and Herb Score, the Indians' southpaw smasher, who fanned 13.

Detroit, now 9½ games behind in fifth place, scored two in the ninth as Score walked two and gave up a double to Frank House, but Ray Narleski came on to save the young lefty by getting Harvey Kuenn on a pop fly.

Washington and Baltimore were not scheduled.

In the National League, Brooklyn broke out of its "slump" to score three runs on five hits while pasting Jim Hearn in the first inning and rumbled on to an 8-4 decision over the New York Giants. Jim Bessent won in relief as the Giants outted Karl Spooner with two in the third and two in the fourth.

Redlegs Paved Cub's Cincinnati moved back into fifth place, displacing Chicago with a 2-1 victory over the Cubs. Four singles after two were out in the sixth scored the Redleg runs off loser Paul Munner. Art Fowler gave six hits for the triumph.

The Milwaukee Braves defeated the St. Louis Cardinals 5-3 in the only night game. Warren Spahn recorded his second victory in four nights, while Bill Bruton hit a home run with one mate on and Chuck Tanner hit one with the bases empty for the winners. Larry Jackson was the loser.

ONLY 35 REPORT FOR FIRST GHS GRID SESSION

There's going to be a manpower shortage on the Gettysburg High School football squad this season unless more candidates report for drills in the near future.

Coaches Howard Shoemaker and his assistants, Ray Ellis and Don Bickel, were disappointed Thursday evening when only 35 candidates reported at the gymnasium for the opening workout. They are hopeful more will decide to report this evening for the second practice session at 6:30.

The heavy rainfall Thursday forced the Warriors to abandon plans for an outdoor drill and confine activity to the gymnasium.

The program for the season was outlined, basic principles were discussed and the first play was given during the indoor drill. A blackboard discussion concluded the practice.

Gettysburg's opening game is listed for three weeks from tonight when Westminster will come here.

Ned Brownley, Junior High coach, assisted Thursday evening and will continue until his squad reports following the opening of school.

INDIA BREAKS WITH PORTUGAL

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—India broke her last official links with Portugal today as a result of the killing of Indian marchers into Portuguese India Monday.

Prime Minister Nehru's government ordered Portugal to close its consulates in Bombay, Madras and Calcutta. Reports from Nova Goa, said the government there had ordered the Indian consul and his staff to leave.

Reports from Nova Goa, capital of Portuguese India, last night said 1,500 Indians were massing at the frontier, presumably intending another "peaceful invasion" in support of Nehru's demand that Portugal surrender her Indian territories and permit their merger with the Indian Republic.

Leaders of the "Free Goa" campaign said today, however, that there were only about 800 waiting to attempt an entry into Goa and all but 70 of these had been asked to return to their homes.

They said the step was taken to avoid further bloodshed and that the 70 will remain as representatives of all Indians demanding the Portuguese retire from India.

2 Teen-Agers In Junior Title Play

FLORENCE, S. C. (AP)—Two teen-agers far from home, Carole Jo Kabler of Roseburg, Ore., and Joanne Gunderson of Seattle, Wash., met here today in an 18-hole match for the U.S. Golf Assn. girls' junior championship.

Each registered a 2 and 1 victory in yesterday's semifinals.

Carole Jo, whose awkward-appearing swing belies the strength of her game, eliminated Betsy Cullen of Tulsa, Okla., and Joanne prevailed over Anne Quast of Everett, Wash.

'Bolts Start Drills With 32 Candidates

Littlestown, undefeated co-champions of the Laurel Conference last season, opened pre-season football drills Thursday when a squad of 32 candidates reported to Coach Wilbur Gobrecht.

This morning the Thunderbolt squad worked out from 8:30 until 11 and an afternoon drill was held from 2 to 4 o'clock.

Littlestown will open its season Friday evening, September 16, when West York will play on the Bolts' field in a conference game. West York was co-champion with Coach Gobrecht's outfit last year.

CANNERS OPEN DRILLS WITH 34 CANDIDATES

Fifteen lads who took part in at least one varsity game last season were among the group of 34 candidates who reported at Biglerville High School Thursday evening for the start of pre-season workouts.

Thursday's session was confined to the gymnasium due to rain and consisted of mapping plans for the coming season and outlining plays.

This evening the Canners are scheduled to work out under the lights. Next Monday the squad goes into camp at the South Mountain Fairgrounds, near Arendtsville, for a week.

Squad Members

Among the candidates reporting for the opening workout were: Ends, Don Hartzell and Ed McLaughlin; tackles, Ken Pitzer, Roy Schwartz, Bob Trimmer, Dennis Hess; guards, Ralph Metzner, Bud Birgenstine, Howard Hensley, Pete Weigle and Dick Wickline, who transferred from Gettysburg last year; centers, Clair Petters and Robert Clark; quarterbacks, Wallace Rice, Eugene Shaffer, Dick Byers and Ken Baltzley; left halves, Ronald Koonitz, Nelson Weber, Russell Bolen; right halves, Bryant Roe and John Constable, and fullbacks, Jim May and Don Rentzel, another transfer from Gettysburg.

Graduation took its heaviest toll in the backfield and rounding out a capable ball-toting combination poses the biggest problem for Bill Coradetti who is starting his second season as pilot of the Canners.

Assisting Coradetti are William Krebs and Donald Sterner. The latter, a graduate of Gettysburg High School and college, is joining the Biglerville staff for the first time.

ARNOLD PALMER IN TORONTO LEAD

TORONTO (AP)—Arnold Palmer, a recruit to golf's money ranks, is heading towards an all-time low score in the Canadian Open championship. Right now, he's making a mess of par figures.

Palmer, 1954 U.S. amateur champion from Latrobe, Pa., headed 102 golfers into the second half of the 72-hole tournament today with a 13-under-par 131 built on rounds of 64 and 67. At the rate he's going the 268 mark set by South Africa's Bobby Locke in 1947 is well within his reach.

Palmer's rounds were good enough to send him into a two-stroke lead over Jackie Burke Jr., of Klamath Lake, N.Y., who put together a 67 and a 66 for a 133. Charlie Stifford, the first-day leader with a record-equalling 63 for any one round in the 46-year history of the Open, blew sky high to a 74 over the 6,428-yard par 72 Weston Club course.

Thursday's best score was a 65 by Dave Douglas of Newark, Del., who won the Open two years ago.

5,000 Marksmen In Columbia Gun Meet

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Five thousand marksmen blast off at clay and canvas targets today with shotguns, rifles and pistols in two of the biggest national gun meets held.

One, the Grand American Trapshoot at Vandalla, will attract about 2,000 shotgun enthusiasts from every state, Canada, Mexico, Cuba, the Canal Zone and elsewhere. The National Rifle matches at Camp Perry will have a field of about 3,000 from every state and every foreign station where U.S. military forces serve. Each branch of service will be represented.

The trapshoot runs through Aug. 27. The Camp Perry affair through Sept. 10.

Guard Presents DSM To Gen. Stackpole

The Distinguished Service Medal of the National Guard Assn. will be presented to Maj. Gen. Edward J. Stackpole, Pennsylvania National Guard (retired), at the annual Governor's Day review Saturday.

The review will climax the first week of a two-week summer encampment at Indiantown Gap for Pennsylvania's National Guard.

Maj. Gen. A. J. Drexel Biddle Jr., state adjutant general said the presentation to Stackpole will be made by Maj. Gen. Milton A. Reckord, Maryland adjutant general, who will represent the national association.

Gen. Stackpole commanded the PNG in 1946-47.

Some 11,000 national guardsmen will march in Saturday's parade.

Michigan State's largest home football crowd was 52,472 for the Notre Dame game in 1952.

Two Softball Games Tonight

After two postponements because of rain, the Softball League playoffs are scheduled to be resumed this evening at the Recreation field.

In the opener at 7 o'clock the VFW and Texas Lunch will meet and the second game will pit the Moose against the Eagles. Both are best-of-five series. The Texas Lunch holds a 2-1 advantage over the Vets and the Moose lead the Eagles 2-0.

DELONE STARTS WITH 15 VETS ON GRID SQUAD

A squad of 51 candidates, including many promising youngsters from Gettysburg, reported for the opening football practice at Delone Catholic High School, McSherrystown, Thursday. The first drill was held in the gym due to rain.

This morning the squad held an outdoor workout and repeated this afternoon.

Coach Alex Dell will send his Squires through morning and afternoon drills each day. Squad members will be served a noon day meal in the school cafeteria.

Freshmen, George Thomassy, Ken Hartlaub, Paul Gebhart, Jim Sterner, Bob Ekenrode, Gary Busby, Wes Keffe, Mike Staub, Don Weaver, Wayne Sponseller.

According to Coach Bell, the Squires will use the T-formation this year. Richie Hemler, a Gettysburg product, has particularly impressed Dell among the candidates for quarterback.

Plan Family Gathering
That led to an exchange of letters and the arrival of Mrs. Quinn here Wednesday to visit with her new-found relatives. Six of the original 11 children of the late Samuel Joseph McKinney, including Mrs. Quinn, are living. Several years ago the five others, believing they were the last survivors, held a reunion here. Mrs. Quinn was shown a picture taken of the other five at that time.

She also has been busy looking over hundreds of pictures showing the family and relatives, the cousins, nephews, and nieces, who have been born since Mrs. Quinn left the family home 39 years ago for Fort Worth, Texas, and disappeared.

Mrs. Quinn plans to spend several weeks here, and is visiting relatives daily. In the meantime the family is planning another "family reunion" for the now six brothers and sisters.

Back Injury May Sideline Ashburn

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Outfielder Richie Ashburn of the Philadelphia Phillies, the National League's leading hitter, faced possible sidelining tonight in the Phillies' clash with the Brooklyn Dodgers because of a minor back injury.

Ashburn has been under heat treatments for the ailment, described by a club physician as an inflammation of a nerve root and muscle in the upper back. The Phillies said Ashburn might be in the lineup if the back responds to treatment.

He suffered the injury in Wednesday night's game with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

NAMED GRID COACH

Charles Albert Musselman, Hanover, who graduated from Gettysburg College in 1950, was appointed head football coach at Edgar Fahs Smith Junior High School, York, at a meeting of the York School Board Thursday evening.

Musselman formerly served as a physical education and health instructor at Hanover Junior High School. He succeeded John H. Gross who resigned to accept at position at Enola High School.

CONFERRING ON NEW SITE FOR DODGER GAMES

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (AP)—President Walter O'Malley of the Brooklyn Dodgers and Mayor Robert Wagner went into a high-level conference today and on the results could hinge the future fate of the Brooks.

The Dodgers are going to play seven home games in Jersey City next season and that announcement whipped city officials into action. They know O'Malley means business in his efforts to have a new field with adequate parking facilities built for the Dodgers.

Before entering the mayor's chambers, O'Malley revealed that Ebbets Field would be sold at the end of the 1957 season.

City Bond Issue Out
"That means," he said, "we'll play 77 home games somewhere in 1958. I hope we'll play them in Brooklyn if things move fast enough."

O'Malley vetoed the idea that the city float a municipal bond issue to build a new stadium as has been done in Cleveland, Baltimore and Kansas City.

"That's out," he said emphatically. "I wouldn't want to have baseball tied up with politics in any way. All I ask of the city fathers is their help in condemning city property."

O'Malley has the site of the proposed new park all picked out. It is in downtown Brooklyn on the site of the present Long Island Railroad station. The Brooklyn official family thinks it can be done. Others aren't so sure.

One of the city's top legal authorities said:

"The city cannot condemn property for the Dodgers. The courts have decided time and again that professional baseball is not in the public interest."

This is a requirement if condemnation proceedings are to be instituted.

Meanwhile, both Jersey City, the neighboring borough of Queens, invited the Brooks to relocate.

O'Malley said the Brooks have six million dollars set aside to start the park. All they need is a place to build it.

SAYS GIANTS MAY MOVE TOO

NEW YORK (AP)—Walter O'Malley, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers, said today that both the Dodgers and New York Giants might move their baseball franchises out of New York City.

The Brooklyn executive made his statement at a meeting with Mayor Robert Wagner and other city officials at Gracie Mansion, the mayor's residence.

O'Malley said if a suitable site isn't found for Dodger games, Brooklyn may move away. He added:

"Personally, I believe the problem is bigger than the Dodgers alone. If anybody went, the two teams (Dodgers and Giants) would go."

"But that doesn't mean we couldn't play within the general area of New York City."

The mayor promised the problem of a new baseball stadium would be discussed by the city's Board of Estimate, probably at its meeting next Wednesday.

WILSON ORDERS NEW HONOR CODE TO BE POSTED

By C. YATES MCDANIEL
WASHINGTON (P)—Secretary of Defense Wilson today ordered the new code of military honor "posted prominently" by every American unit, ship and post throughout the world.

At the same time, he told the three services that it is "vital" to develop plans and start "without delay" training American military men how to avoid capture and how to withstand captivity.

The code of conduct, proclaimed by President Eisenhower Wednesday, is designed to inspire American fighting men in combat and to strengthen them against mental and physical tortures of the type used by the Communists in Korea.

Each To Draw Plans
Wilson's orders to make it effective were contained in three strongly worded memoranda, to the secretaries of the Army, Navy and Air Forces; the Joint Chiefs of Staff; and Asst. Secretary of Defense Carter L. Burgess, manpower chief and chairman of the committee which drafted the code.

Each service was directed to draw up its own plans for educating and indoctrinating its men. No time limit was fixed, but Wilson directed that even before it starts, each man be "thoroughly grounded in the salient features" of the code.

He called for support not only from the military but from civilian groups and other government agencies to aid in "dispelling the clouds of mystery and dread of the unknown which has surrounded Communist strategy and ideology."

Need Moral Strength
He told Burgess to seek such help from labor, industrial and agricultural groups and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Religious and civilian organizations can also help in preparing servicemen for the ordeals of combat or captivity, Wilson said, because moral character and a firm belief in the American way of life are largely formed before a man puts on a uniform.

Wilson declared that this moral training must be emphasized both before and after a man enters military service because there was much "disturbing evidence" that American prisoners in Korea lacked ability to combat and withstand Communist distortions.

Spells Out Goals
On the military side, he directed that preliminary instruction be given all servicemen about the international conditions which "make necessary this restatement and reaffirmation" of historic American principles.

Although Wilson left it to the services to work out the basic forms of their education and training programs he spelled out certain goals that the programs must achieve.

He said every man must be specifically trained "to cope with enemy efforts against him." A "very important" part of this is implanting "basic truths and advantages of our democratic institutions and the fallacies of communism."

To Teach Resistance
Strong, effective leadership and loyalty to group and unit "must be fostered by every means," he said, and every American in uniform must be instructed about his conduct and proper courses of action when "faced with captivity and as a prisoner."

Individuals and units, he said, must be trained in what to do when they are isolated, surrounded or cut off, and how to "resist and avoid enemy interrogation and indoctrination."

U. S. AIR FORCE NEEDS MILLION SKYWATCHERS

As long as this nation needs air defense, it needs a strong Ground Observer Corps, according to General Nathan F. Twining, chief of staff of the U. S. Air Force. "Civilian plane spotters, radar and our interceptor planes are all part of our defense program of peace and security through air strength," General Twining said. "Weakness in any of these invites attack—strength discourages attack."

"One million civilian volunteers are urgently needed now to strengthen Operation Skywatch."

verely hampered bicycle touring. When the motor car appeared at the height of the bicycle craze, demand for easy-to-read and accurate road maps mushroomed.

Early route books such as issued by the Automobile Club of America in 1900 often depended upon narrative description "Go straight out to where the way ahead is blocked by irregularity of cross streets, where bend left and follow Shore road..." Some books included maps, but there were no standard highway markings. The first major numbering job was not done until 1917, in Wisconsin.

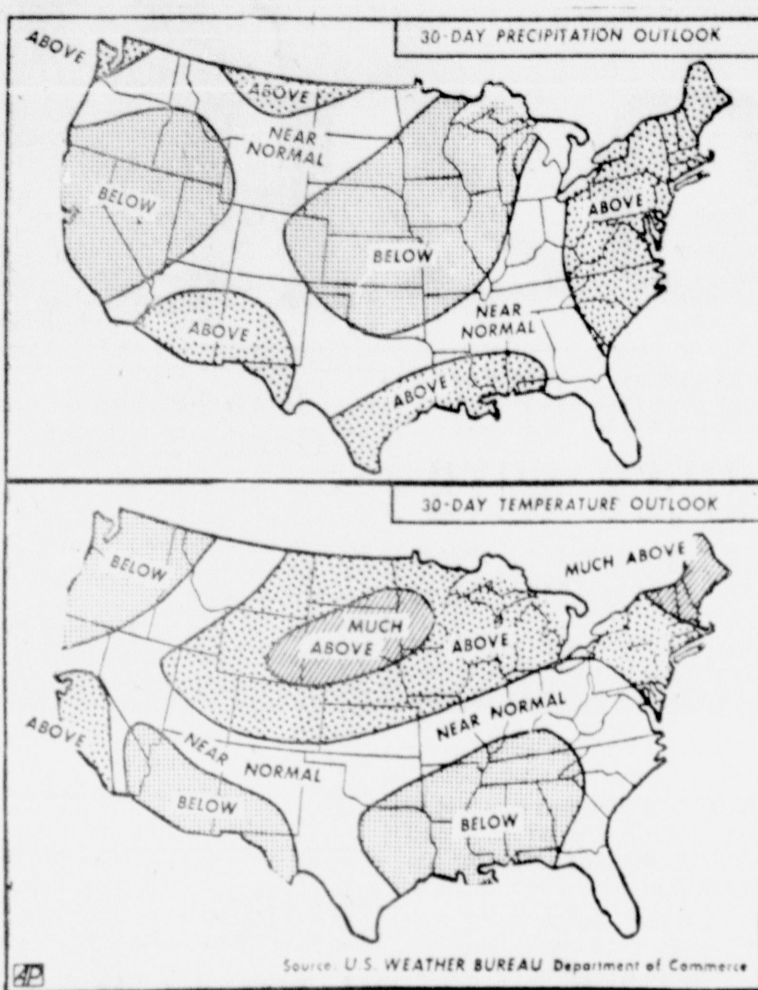

So motorists were as often frustrated as helped by early routings. One such was Otto G. Lindbergh. In 1912, his three-year-old General Drafting Company turned out the first road map of Vermont (an effort he now terms "pretty bad"). The next year a Pittsburgh advertising man sold Gulf Oil Company on giving away 10,000 maps of Allegheny County — the first known oil company distribution.

Ten years later — shortly after Lindbergh and associate Ernest Alpers spent most of a fishing trip trying to find out where they were — General Drafting landed its first, really big job: 100,000 copies of a Massachusetts map for the First National Bank of Boston. Into that map went a host of new ideas — white background for the state, units for bordering states, blue for water areas, type size adjusted to size of towns and cities, main routes distinctively marked.

Armed with that map, Alpers next year challenged Standard Oil Company of New Jersey: "Let us make a map of New Jersey. If it isn't the best map you ever saw, you won't owe us a cent." The present-day marketers of Esso took that challenge, and the map — the first to be mass-distributed by an oil company.

With Rand McNally and Harry M. Gousha, General Drafting is one of three major U.S. mapmakers. Over half a billion maps have carried the company signature. That figure is swelling by some 20 million a year.

An accurate road map requires arduous effort, taking up a year for U.S. areas and usually longer for foreign nations. Road maps are outdated as quickly as women's fashions. Many must be updated two or three times a year, and redone from scratch every five years.

Today's highway-building boom merely adds to the realignment of new bridges and numbering changes. Corrections are going onto the maps right up until press time — and sometimes even then.

In view of mapmaking progress, it's little wonder that the map-reading illiteracy of some of us tends to dismay the mapmakers. Some diehards, for instance, are willing to concede that it may be nice to have northern areas toward the top of a map — but why, they want to know, does east always have to go on the right? Those who ask for a routing from Seattle WEST to Los Angeles also occasion some misgivings. The business of helping people along the way does have its compensations, of course.

Safely buried in the files of Esso Touring Service is the ex-

Worriwlow To Quit GOP Finance Post

HARRISBURG (P)—State Republican Chairman Miles Horst says William H. Worriwlow Sr., Lebanon, will retire soon as chairman of the GOP-finance committee.

Horst said yesterday that Worriwlow asked that he be replaced as chairman but agreed to remain as a member of the finance committee.

"I regret very much that Mr. Worriwlow has reached this decision (to retire) for he has been of invaluable service to the Republican party of Pennsylvania and to me as state chairman during a very difficult period," Horst said.

uberant thank-you note from the fellow who used an Esso routing to take his bride on a honeymoon trip to her native state. Along the way, the young husband heard all and more than he cared for about the delights of this particular bit of Old South. Consequently, he studied detour warnings for the area with special care — and bounced his unsuspecting bride over many a dusty mile until she gradually lapsed into silence.

There was also the flood of several hundred requests for routing to an obscure point in Tennessee called Oak Ridge, while that way station's atomic installation, barely off the drafting boards, was still Top Secret — and the frantic State Department request for all available maps of Costa Rica and Nicaragua just before the recent border flare-up there.

With or without a map, some of us will always have trouble finding the corner grocery. For us, there may be some comfort in the story told by author Carl Carmer. As Carmer tells it, he pulled up at a country general store and asked a journeyman: "Friend, if you were me, how would you go about getting to Pleasantville?"

To which the man replied, after some thought: "Stranger, if I was you, I wouldn't move a god-darned inch!"

LONE GUNMAN IS CAPTURED

CARLISLE, Pa. (P)—A lone gunman, whom police said held up three employees of the Household Finance Co. office and fled with about $200, was in Cumberland County jail today following his capture in a police roadblock.

State police said Manuel Moreno, 26, Crabtree, Westmoreland County, was apprehended about 20 miles west of Carlisle yesterday in one of several roadblocks set up throughout the area.

Moreno surrendered to troopers Michael Sabol and Paul Kleckner of the Chambersburg barracks at the intersection of Rts. 641 and 443 near Roxbury in Franklin County.

Dale Harbison, finance office manager, said the man, armed with a .45 caliber automatic pistol, entered the second-floor office and demanded "all the money."

The gunman took the money, Harbison said, and then forced the employees into another office while he made his getaway.

Clinton Weidner, Cumberland County district attorney, said a gun and money were found in Moreno's car after he was stopped by police.

Those in the office at the time of the holdup were James Wilburne, 24, a field representative; Miss Fay Myers, 21, and Mrs. Robert Long, 30.

Henry Moreno is the only jockey to beat Native Dancer in a race. He was on Dark Star when that colt defeated Native Dancer in the Kentucky Derby.

South Korean Ban
On Trips To Japan
SEOUL (AP)—South Korea has "completely banned" Koreans from making any business or personal trips between South Korea and Japan, the Foreign Ministry said Thursday.

Foreign Ministry officials said, "As a principle, no Koreans are allowed to make any private trips between the two countries... because 'the Japanese are giving protection and encouragement to elements opposed to the government of the Republic of Korea, to Korean national traitors, and to pro-Japanese Koreans both economically and politically.'"

HOPE FOR THE EXILES

Isaiah 55

Key Verse: Incline your ear, and come to me; hear, that your soul may live, Is. 55:3.

The message of this week's lesson is taken from Isaiah 55 and consists of words of hope and encouragement spoken by one captive to the rest of his companions in Babylonia. But how could it have come from the pen of Isaiah who lived nearly two hundred years before? It is believed that Chapters 40-55 of the famous book of Isaiah were written by an unknown prophet called the Second Isaiah or the "Isaiah of Babylon" to distinguish him from the First Isaiah known as the "Isaiah of Jerusalem."

The long-drawn-out captivity of more than fifty years was irking the Jews and they longed for the time of return to Judah. Daniel had prayed God in their behalf, and his vision of the day when their long bondage would be broken.

Had Special Mission

In order to clarify our thinking, let us recall that our study has been concerned primarily with the captivity of Judah in the days of the Assyrian Empire when Babylon was a dependency. When Isaiah was still a young man the Assyrians captured Samaria, Israel fell, and 200,000 were carried away. When he was an old man (701 B.C.) the Assyrians under Sennacherib were stopped before the walls of Jerusalem, routed by an Angel of God. It was through his prayer and guidance of King Hezekiah that Judah was delivered. Judah's captivity had been prophesied 150 years before it really occurred.

Now this Second Isaiah, a man of great insight and religious zeal, inspires the people to firmer faith and true repentance. This he does in some of the sublimest language in all literature. He begins with an invitation to the thirsty to "come to the waters," the life-giving, soul-satisfying source which is God. In the East it was, and still is, customary to sell water as it is much scarcer in the Orient than in western lands. God's gifts of spiritual refreshment are more important than mere bread and water. Peace can be found in devotion to God through Christ. The captives referred to frequently as the "suffering servant of God" grasped at these beautiful words of hope monplace."

This great prophet of the exile made three very positive contributions to the life and faith of the captives of Judah. His presentation of God, his interpretation of history, and his clear definition of the destiny of God's people stand out as great biblical milestones in the history of the Jewish nation.

What Could Isaiah Say?

Isaiah of Babylon proclaimed the omnipotence of God in magnificent language, "I am the Lord Thy God." There is but one God, and in his words "There is no limit to God's power; who has measured the waters in the hollow of his hand and marked off the heavens with a span."

And God is Ruler of the world and as such He guides and directs the affairs of nations. "A universal God and a universal religion are the crown of history, the goal of the world." Have you ever seen God's hand molding the affairs of nations today? His will eventually will sway the people, as it did with the restive band of Judah's survivors. God may punish his people, but He never deserts them.

Earlier in Judah's history prophets could hold before the people a pledge of material prosperity if they would forget their idolatrous ways and turn back in repentance to God. But the situation was different now: Judah was overthrown, her people in bondage, and there could be no promise of material blessings. Then, what could Isaiah say? All he could say was that through suffering, repentance, and service they would eventually triumph.

Stole 100 Autos To Get Pretty Girls

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Two teen-aged boys picked up on auto theft charges here yesterday admitted having taken some 100 cars, chiefly bright-colored convertibles.

The boys, 15 and 16, said the "sharp looking" cars made it easy "to pick up pretty girls."

KNOW HIM ?

Juvenile delinquency was just a term until they sent the boy down the street to what they politely termed a "training school." Then it became real, because this boy wasn't just a statistic but a kid who had played with your kids. Why, only last Sunday you had gone fishing with his father.

So now... you wondered why. The boy came from a good home—or did he? There was money enough, luxury enough, but it's true that his parents sometimes left him pretty much to his own devices. There were his mother's clubs and his father's business, and they led an active social life.

You asked yourself why... and in your heart you knew the answer. It lay in those gaps that had been left in his upbringing—great chinks, that should have been filled with faith, spiritual guidance, and solid enduring values. Thinking about it, you made up your mind to start taking your own kids to church on Sundays without fail—no matter how good the weather was for fishing.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

SHAPIRO URGES TAX COMMITTEE TO STUDY NEEDS

HARRISBURG (AP) — A Senate Democratic committee called more witnesses today in its examination of Gov. Leader's proposed $1,800,000,000 budget after the Legislature was described as "putting the cart before the horse" on a tax-budget program.

State Secretary of Welfare Harry Shapiro said yesterday the Legislature was "putting the cart before the horse" by debating taxes before resolving the financial needs of the state.

"The attention of the legislature has been focused upon the nature of the taxes to be levied, before the value and necessity of the program has been determined or even examined," Shapiro told the eight-member committee.

Examine Needs

Shapiro said action on a tax program "might well be postponed until the needs of the departments have been examined fairly and determined finally."

He made his comments as a compromise tax conference prepared to meet next Monday for the third time in an attempt to wrap up a tax package to replace the administration's classified income tax, killed in the Senate two weeks ago.

Although the tax conferees have refused to talk about specific taxes under discussion there was speculation that a mercantile or gross receipts tax was regarded as a possible keystone to raise 357 mil-chard Motel, which was purchased last spring. The store has been placed in the front of the property, which measures approximately one acre, and the motel units have been converted into apartments for store personnel. The firm of Weikert and Plank were the contractors.

The managers of the new store will be Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Arendt, of Gettysburg. The owners are Col. J. Fuller Groom and Alexander P. Marshall, both of Alexandria, Va. This will be the first Stuckey's store that the pair owns.

Col. Groom said that he chose Gettysburg to build a store "because the tourist business is a year-round affair here. In the winter many people from Canada and western New York and Pennsylvania head down Route 15 for the South. And in the summer, of course, you have the Battlefield."

Col. Groom said a distinctive feature about all Stuckey's stores is the numerous roadside signs advertising it. He stated that "about 25" have been and are being built in the Gettysburg area.

lion dollars in new revenue.

Letter Unanswered

Shapiro's statements were contained in a letter written to Sens. Mahany, Republican floor leader, and Taylor, president pro tem, last Aug. 1. The secretary said the letter, read to the committee, was never answered.

Sen. Yosko (D - Northampton), chairman of the committee, described Shapiro's testimony as: "A powerfully packed indictment of Republican lethargy and neglect in the years they held the fate of state welfare in their hands."

Higher Tariff On Bicycles Ordered

FRASER, Colo. (AP) — President Eisenhower today ordered an immediate 50 per cent tariff hike on all imported bicycles to protect American producers from "serious injury."

In announcing the action, the President's vacation headquarters here indicated it might raise the wholesale cost of imported models in the United States by from $1 to $3 if foreign manufacturers add the duty increase to their selling price.

There were no figures available here on the effect at retail, but there appeared to be a good chance that any increase at wholesale probably would be passed on to bike riders.

The White House said most bicycles come from Great Britain, West Germany, Austria, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

DELAY ISSUE IN ARGENTINA

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina. (AP)—Argentina's Senate has authorized President Juan Peron to delay action on the explosive issue of separating church and state even as the government renewed its dispute with Catholic leaders.

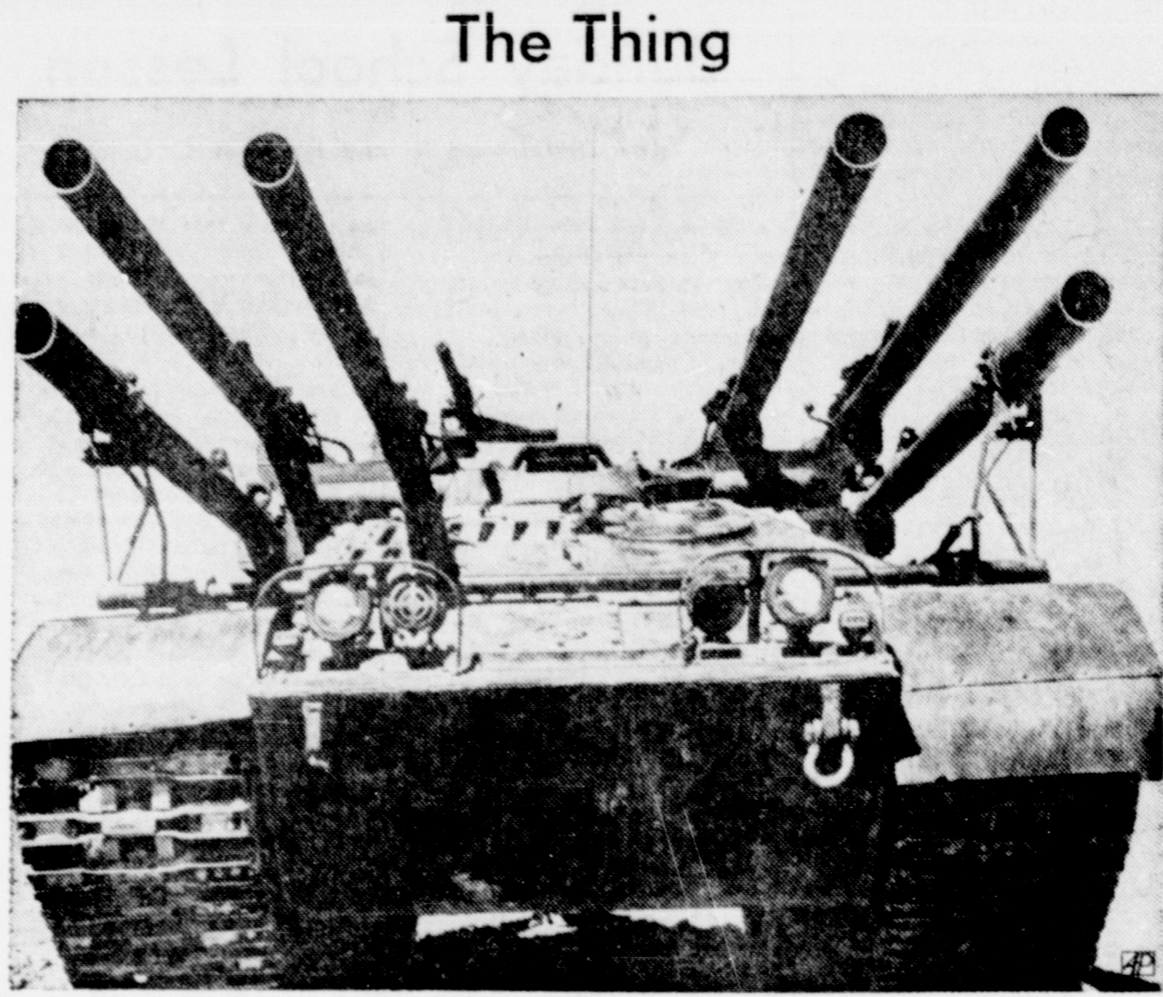

The Senate put its stamp last night on the government bill which already has cleared the lower house. If Peron signs it; election of a constitutional assembly to sever the church's official ties with the state could be held off until next May. The original law called for an election before Nov. 23.

Under the present constitution, Roman Catholicism is Argentina's official religion and the President must be of that faith. The Vatican excommunicated Peron last June during his bitter feud with church leaders whom he accused of starting an insurgent political movement. They denied the charge.

The Senate acted less than 24 hours after Justice and Interior Minister Oscar Albrieu, in a blunt statement to newsmen, accused seven priests in Buenos Aires of using the pulpit to incite "a campaign of disobedience" against Peron. Albrieu said the government would resume its political campaign against church leaders, halted after the abortive June 16 rebellion against the President.

ATTLEE IS NOW RECOVERED FROM CEREBRAL CLOT

LONDON (AP) — Former Prime Minister Clement Attlee has recovered from a cerebral thrombosis, his wife said today.

"The thrombosis (blood clot on the brain) has now been resolved and all is well again," Mrs. Attlee told newsmen.

The illness of the 72-year-old Labor party leader did not become known publicly until last night.

The Labor party's press office said in London there was no reason to believe that Attlee would not fulfill his customary party duties, especially at the Socialists' annual conference in Margate Oct. 10-14. The House of Commons is in recess.

Attlee's wife said he is also troubled by a skin ailment.

"He is not keeping any engagements," she said. "We shall be going away next week for a holiday in Pembrokeshire."

Attlee, who served as Britain's first postwar Prime Minister, is resting at his home in Great Missenden, Buckinghamshire.

U.N. COMMAND TO DEMAND RETURN OF TWO AIRMEN

MUNSAN, Korea (AP) — The U.N. Command tonight called an urgent meeting of the Military Armistice Commission to demand the return of the pilot and passenger of a U.S. training plane shot down by the Communists Wednesday.

The meeting was called for 10 a.m. Saturday (8 p.m. Friday, EST).

The Communists did not immediately reply.

There was still no information on whether the pilot and passenger in the T6 trainer survived the crash.

The wording of the U.N. request for the commission session seemed to indicate official belief the pair may be alive. They are officially listed as missing. Names have been withheld.

The small, unarmed craft was caught in a barrage of heavy Communist antiaircraft fire when it inadvertently flew into the United Nations side of the demilitarized zone Wednesday.

JERSEY RIVERS OVERFLOWING

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Torrential rains today pushed rivers and streams over their banks in many sections of New Jersey, causing widespread damage and forcing families to flee their homes.

Hardest hit was the western section of the state along the Delaware River, which was 26 feet above normal in the Phillipsburg area at 7 a.m. today and rising at a rapid pace.

Also heavily inundated were communities in Bergen and Passaic counties along the Ramapo River and in the Somerville and Clinton areas by the Raritan.

The Newark Weather Bureau said 2 1/4 inches of rain fell during the 24 hours between 8:30 a.m. Thursday and the same time today but the rainfall was heavier in other parts of the state. The precipitation was expected to halt this morning but the flood danger would not be abated, the weatherman said.

In towns and cities throughout the state, storm sewers were unable to hold the heavy water load and streets and cellars became flooded.

Residents along the Delaware River from the northwest corner of the state at High Point down along the Sussex, Warren and Hunterdon county borders, faced danger from the rising waters.

Leader Tax Bill Needs Solid Democratic Support To Swing GOP Backing In Show-Down

By JOHN KOENIG JR.

HARRISBURG (AP)—Any new tax program put forth by Gov. Leader must have solid Democratic support before it can be expected to win any Senate Republican votes, Sen. Mahany (R-Crawford) said Thursday.

"It will be difficult to get Republicans to go for an administration tax if any Democrats drop out," the Senate GOP floor leader said. Mahany and other Republican legislative leaders have joined the Democratic counter-attacks in conferences with Leader to iron out a substitute for the GOP-killed classified income tax.

Meet On Monday

With the Leader plan sidelined and continuation of the sales tax ruled out by Democrats, the conferees, who meet again in the governor's office next Monday must find a substitute to meet the 1955-57 budget of $1,800,000,000.

While members of the bipartisan compromise committee refused to talk about specific taxes, there were some reports at the capitol that a mercantile or gross receipts tax was being discussed as a possible key stone levy for a new tax package to raise 357 million dollars.

Others mentioned in that connection were levies on restaurant meals, hotel rooms, soft drinks and telephone instruments.

Economy League

All of those taxes were included among the potential sources of revenue submitted to the compromise committee by the Pennsylvania Economy League. A tax on soft drinks was imposed several years ago but was dropped after two years.

A mercantile tax, at 3 mills for wholesalers and 6 mills on retailers, would raise an estimated $225,000,000 for a two year period. The estimated yield of the other levies would be restaurant meals, 3 per cent, $76,000,000; hotel rooms, 5 per cent, $10,000,000; soft drinks, one cent, $27,400,000; telephone instruments, 20 cents, monthly, $16,80,000.

Mahany said that when agreement is reached at the compromise parley then other caucus members must be sold on the plan adopted.

Political Problems

"The first question will be how is Sen. So-and-so, a Democrat, going to vote on this," said Mahany. If, for instance, he explained Democrats could line up only 14 votes for an accepted tax plan then the Republicans would have to provide 14 votes to put the plan through—which would be highly unlikely.

The implication here is that, tax programs being unpopular with the voters at home, GOP senators will not want to risk the chance of an antagonizing their own constituents if Democrats don't.

Democrats Back Leader

Reluctance of some Democrats in the House—where that party holds a 112-98 majority—to go along with the Leader classified income tax is believed to have caused some doubts about voting for the measure even among Senate Democrats.

When the chips were down, however, all Democratic senators stood solidly behind Leader's tax program after it reached their chamber for a vote. In a strict party-line vote, it was knocked down, 26-22. Republicans have maintained that as much as 250 million dollars can be lopped from the governor's budget estimates.

MANY USES IN INDUSTRY SEEN FOR TRITIUM

GENEVA (AP)—Tritium, an ingredient of the hydrogen bomb, may prove a valuable help to commercial laundries in cleaning greasy clothes.

W. G. Brown of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission's Argonne National Laboratory and three colleagues told the atomic-for-peace conference today that this radioactive form of hydrogen may also become widely used in dairy food processing, petroleum and other industries.

Tritium is the heavyweight of the three forms of hydrogen. The others are ordinary hydrogen and deuterium. Tritium is made in atomic reactors by bombarding a form of lithium with atomic neutrons. It exists only in minute quantities in nature.

Would Serve As Tracers

The AEC scientists explained that its potential use in industry would be as a radioactive tracer to study action and disposition of ordinary hydrogen materials in various processes.

Since tritium itself is a form of hydrogen, it could be mixed with materials containing hydrogen. And since it is also radioactive, it could be detected with a Geiger counter—thus allowing measurement of what happens to all hydrogen involved in a given process.

Thus in laundries, tritium could be put into a washing solution for greasy clothes and it would become distributed among the hydrogen atoms in grease.

Easily Detected

Later the clothes could be inspected with a Geiger counter to see whether all the grease has been removed.

The scientists said in their report that tritium is very sensitive to detection even when in dilutions of up to one part tritium in 10 billion billion parts of water.

"The low cost of tritium and the high dilutions which are permissible should lead to widespread use in industry," they reported.

They said tritium might have wide application industrially for measuring retention of dyes by fabrics, study of combustion processes in the petroleum industry, petroleum exploration and investigations of atmospheric pollution.

LEADER OFFERS HEALTH POINTS ON ANNIVERSARY

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)—Gov. Leader has outlined a four-point "prescription for health" which he said would provide "the best health possible" for every person in the commonwealth.

In a prepared address commemorating the 50th anniversary of the State Health Department, Leader listed his "prescription" as:

1. "A community consciousness of current health problems and a will to tolerate them no longer."
2. "The very best and most current information that medical science can offer as to the best means available to attack each of the community health problems which plague us."
3. "A corps of trained and experienced public health professional and technical people representing the many disciplines required to staff a modern department of health."
4. "A tradition of reward for service within that professional and technical staff."

Gross Deficiencies

The governor declared that although the State Health Department has accomplished "much good" in its 50 year history, a recent American Public Health Assn. survey said "gross deficiencies" existed in many services offered to Pennsylvanians.

"It is my firm conviction," Leader said, "that many of these deficiencies were traceable to the lack of stature of the professional staff, a lack of stature which was imposed by a political patronage system reaching to every level of the department staff."

The governor contended that competent physicians and skilled health workers cannot be recruited or retained without a sound merit system.

Position Reclassification

He said a step was taken in that direction through position reclassification already approved by the executive board.

"Further adjustment," he added, "may be effected by the public administration survey which, at my direction, is being carried out for all departments."

Admitting that a "tradition of reward for service" is "perhaps the most difficult of the ingredients to procure," Leader said a new merit system already set up in the health department will provide:

Merit System Provisions

"An atmosphere of professional integrity not influenced by politics or politicians, a system which provides rewards for the competent and does not protect or perpetuate the incompetent."

Leader said his administration will contribute "a tradition of continuity in the professional and technical aspects of our health program" to attract trained personnel into the health department.

Urging the setting up of county health units in the state, the chief executive said a community consciousness of disease can "provide a base for the more sympathetic understanding of all our health problems."

County Health Units

County health units are now operating in Butler and Bucks counties.

In providing its citizens with information on disease, Leader said "Pennsylvania is remarkably fortunate" in having "superior" universities and professional schools.

"The willingness of these institutions to cooperate has been amply demonstrated in the past," he said, adding:

"With the help of the organized medical profession represented here today, the scientific 'know-how' is certainly at our disposal."

Leader reviewed the health department's fight against disease during its 50 years and pointed up the importance of preventing medicine in "safeguarding the continuing" health of persons in the state.

State Unemployment Checks Decreasing

HARRISBURG (AP)—A decrease of 404,464 unemployment compensation checks is reported by state Treasurer Weldon B. Heyburn for the month of July compared to the same time last year.

Heyburn said Thursday a total of 522,971 checks were sent out in July, 1955, as compared to 927,435 during the previous July. Monetary value of the checks written last month amounted to $13,097,593 compared to $23,589,040 in July, 1954.

1781 NEW CASES OF POLIO IN U.S. IN LAST WEEK

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Public Health Service said Thursday 1,781 new polio cases were reported to it last week. No reports were received from Vermont and Wyoming. Vermont had two cases in the preceding week, ended Aug. 6, and Wyoming had none.

The total represented an increase of 26 per cent over the corrected total of 1,412 cases in the week ended Aug. 6. It was 6 per cent below the 1,904 reported for the corresponding 1954 week.

Through Aug. 13, there were 9,720 cases listed this calendar year compared with 12,695 in the corresponding 1954 span. For the disease year which starts about April 1 there were 8,657 cases, compared with 11,142 a year ago.

Up 30 Pct. In New England

"Increases occurred in all geographic divisions except the West South Central and the Mountain (states)," the weekly communicable disease summary said.

"An increase of approximately 30 per cent occurred in the New England, Middle Atlantic, East North Central and the West North Central divisions."

States which have reported the largest number of cases per 100,000 population since April 1, and the rate in each, were: Idaho 23.9, Massachusetts 23.4, Nevada 20.6, Wisconsin 11.2, Texas 10.7 and New Hampshire 10.3.

114 In Boston

The report said that although Massachusetts reported a 30 per cent increase in cases in the week ended Aug. 13 as compared with the preceding week, the State Health Department reported little extension of the disease. The 411 cases occurred principally in communities which had been involved in previous weeks.

Cases in Boston totaled 114, compared with 84 in the previous week. "The Cape Cod area, Nantucket and Martha's Vineyard and the rural areas in the western part of the state are still considered by state health officials to be comparatively safe for summer visitors," the summary said.

SCHMIDT WILL SEEK DIVORCE, SON'S CUSTODY

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Airman Daniel Schmidt's lawyer says Schmidt will file "not later than Monday" for a divorce from the wife who married again while he was a prisoner of the Communist Chinese.

Atty. Howard P. Welch said he plans to start divorce proceedings for Schmidt "perhaps this week-end . . . Not later than Monday."

Daniel, 23, was one of 11 American fliers released recently by the Communists. He returned home last week to learn his 20-year-old wife Una had married logging worker Alford Fine, in the belief, she said, that Schmidt had died in Korea.

Welch said the petition for divorce will include a request that the court give Schmidt the custody of 2½-year-old Danny Jr., the son that was born while he was in a Communist prison.

At the same time, Welch confirmed Daniel's plans to drive to Portland this weekend to see his mother Mrs. Nellie Peters.

Mrs. Peters told reporters she had received a telephone call from her son telling her to expect him

ARMY WILL BE READY SOON ON NEW PROGRAMS

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army today put into effect one phase of the new reserve training program and announced it will be ready soon with others, including the enlistment of men 17-18½ years old for six months training.

The over-all program, which Congress cut down from President Eisenhower's requests, envisions creation of a strong and active reserve to supplement reduced regular forces. Reserves are to be built up over a period of years to 2,800,000 men from the present 800,000.

The Army said it will accept immediate six-year enlistments directly into the reserve by men who have not yet been ordered to report for induction under the draft.

Is Given Choice

Each man accepted must serve two years on active duty, take part in the ready reserve for three years and serve one year in the standby reserve — the same time as if he were drafted — but will have a choice of when he will serve his two years of active duty.

The Army said that it will be ready to start accepting enlistments for the short-term reserve training program in the "immediate future," which officials have said will probably mean Oct. 1.

President Eisenhower last week authorized an Army quota of 90,000 such enlistments and the Marine Corps 5,500 during the 10 months ending next June 30.

Would Miss Draft

The six months of active training must be followed up by 7½ years more in the active reserve. Volunteers will be deferred from the draft throughout the full eight years if they take an active and satisfactory part in the reserve training. Otherwise they are subject to a two-year draft.

These short-term trainees will be paid $50 a month for the six months. High school students who volunteer may be deferred from the initial active duty training until they complete their high school courses or reach the age of 20, whichever is earlier.

Enlist Thru Units

Enlistments will be handled by the nearest organized reserve unit rather than regular recruiting centers, although recruiters will give information about the program.

The Army said it is also ready to carry out another provision of the new law which applies to men now on active duty who complete their tours before July 1, 1957. If they join a ready reserve unit when they get out and serve in it satisfactorily for one year, they will be transferred then to the standby reserve, where regular training is not required.

FREEMAN RITES SATURDAY

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Funeral services will be held Saturday for William C. Freeman, 74, of Philadelphia, former state legislator and secretary of banking in the administration of Gov. Martin.

Freeman died in Presbyterian Hospital yesterday following a short illness. Surviving are his widow and a daughter.

LANA TURNER INJURED
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actress Lana Turner's physician has ordered her to bed for two weeks for treatment of a brain concussion suffered in a bathtub fall.

Her studio said she slipped while getting out of the tub last week in Acapulco, Mexico, where she and her husband, actor Lex Barker, were vacationing. They returned Monday.

in Portland Sunday.

"We Are Through"
She said Schmidt told her over the phone he didn't intend to go back to Una.

"We are through. I don't even want to see her again," he said. Mrs. Peters had said only Wednesday she was sure Danny and Una would patch it up again.

Alford Fine, the third party to the triangle, has left Una for a job in another town, said her attorney.

Damage Actions For $350,000 Are Filed

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Damage suits for $350,000 were filed against the United States government yesterday in behalf of relatives of two men killed in an explosion and fire last May 26 at the Publicker Industries, Inc., distillery.

The suits, filed in U.S. District Court, accused the government of neglect in the deaths of Albert Weinstein, 49, of Camden, N. J., and Edward C. Carrigan, 59, of Philadelphia.

The suits claim that part of the plant where the men were working was under the supervision and control of the government and that proper ventilating equipment had not been installed.

The Weinstein suit is for $250,000 and the Carrigan suit for $100,000. Two other men also were killed in the explosion. The plant was severely damaged.

Experiments with deer show that even when plenty of food is available, they cut their consumption of food about half in winter and lose about 20 pounds in that season.

Exiled Italian Ignored By Police

MILAN, Italy (AP)—Joseph Accardi, 46-year-old former New Jersey resident, vanished inside his native Italy yesterday after deportation from the United States.

Listed as a racketeer by the U. S. Department of Justice, Accardi was deported for illegal entry from Canada.

He was placed on a plane at New York Wednesday night and arrived in Milan yesterday. Police in this city said they were not interested in his whereabouts and did not know where Accardi went from the airport.
